From Tony and Diane: The oncology doctor is happy with Tony's recovery, but still wants to explore a suspicious shadow near his tonsils. He was back to hospital yesterday to remove skin cancers from nose and ear. Praise for the blessings, but the flesh is still very weak and tired.

Thought starters for private reflection, or group study.

1. When was the last time you read from Leviticus?
2. How do you choose what part of the Bible you will read? What might be a better plan?
3. Why do you think God planned the resurrection of Jesus, and the indwelling of the Holy Spirit to both happen on the first day of the week?
4. What do you think we are supposed to learn by the work of Jesus coming before the work of the Holy Spirit?
5. How would you answer someone who complained that the money they gave to God actually ended up in the pocket of a person who spent it on earth?
6. On the Day of Pentecost AD30, the believers did not talk about the rushing mighty wind, nor the tongues of fire, but the wonderful works of God (Acts 2:11). Why did they ignore the obvious signs?
